High Lysine Corn has been written about for a number of years - finally it's here. John Wilson was able to get a unit of pioneer 307 XL. I believe that this is the first high lysine corn produced in Appomattox County.

• • •

We're constantly finding something new and different. Last week Jennings Conner brought in potato vines that were infected with European corn borer.

This was the first time this insect had been reported in potatoes in this county. However, they have been reported in the Eastern Shore for several years.

• • •

Sam Conner showed me a self-closing head gate. I'd read about them but it was the first that I'd seen. It can be a real advantage for a one man operation.

• • •

Spracide 2E is now recommended for the control of flea beetles, hornworms, and budworms on tobacco. Use 2 to 3 pints per acre for flea beetles and hornworms. For budworms use ½ gallon per acre.

This material is toxic to man, birds, and fish. Do not apply where run-off into a body of water is likely to occur.

Superior cows can now multiply their influence on the blood lines, just as bulls have been doing through AI. One company has recently announced the opening of a commercial facility to provide ova transfer in cattle.

Ova transfer is the science of implanting a fertilized egg from a genetically superior cow in a less valuable animal to be carried through pregancy to birth. The "foster" mother inculates the egg, but contributes nothing to the genetic make-up of the calf. Thus the superior cow can produce several valuable calves a year rather than just one.

• • •

The prize support level of dark tobacco will be 53.5c per pound this fall.

Last year Virginia averaged 970 pounds per acre, while our competitors in Tennessee and Kentucky averaged 1,844 lbs.

• • •

Virginia fire-cured exports of 3.4 million pounds in October 1972 - April 1973 were 1.8 million above a year earlier. Exports to Norway, the leading destination increased after declining the proceeding year. In Malawi, another major fire-cured exporter, the 1973 crop is expected to reach 26.75 million pounds, down 3 million from last year.

• • •

Over 80 percent of all animal life consists of insects. While there are approximately three billion people in the world, scientists estimate that there are that many insects for every square mile of the earth.

Local Girl Named President of Culpeper Jayceettes

Miss Catherine R. Beale, a native of Appomattox, was elected as President of the Culpeper Jayceettes on June 19 at Graves mountain Lodge in Madison, Virginia.

Miss Beale is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson of Appomattox.

Miss Beale has been a very active Jayceette for the past several years, having served as Internal Vice - President, Secretary, and chairman of the Project Operation Red Ball, Culpeper Pageant, Display Meeting in Culpeper, and Ball in October she was a special guest of the Berryville Jayceettes to conduct a forum and membership for the annual State meeting.

During three consecutive years, Miss Beale has been selected as a finalist for outstanding Jayceette of the year - having won the engraved silver bowl as the Jayceette Winner last year.

Miss Beale resides in Pelham Manor with her husband, Jayce, who is Central Office Foreman for C & P Telephone. She are the parents of two children, ages 7 and Timmy, 4, and a daughter, Angela, who is three. She has been active in the Culpeper Baptist Church, serving as Nursery Chairman, W.M.S. secretary, and organist, along with working with the youth and directing the Music Makers Choir. She is also organist for Clore Funeral Home and drives Culpeper County School Bus No. 23 for the Pelham Manor children.

Mrs. Beale's year started with a whirl. On Monday, July 9th, she left for Roanoke where she will be the official chaperone and accompanist for Miss Culpeper, Linda Faye Fincham.
